

Problem and discussion of the background

Nowadays there are many congresses performed every year and even every month around the world. Congresses have become a business model. In order to become a congress important, it is needed that important people and recognized people around the world attend to it. A good city, interesting to visit is essential. However, not only an attractive city is important but also the comfort of the attendance too. People attending to the congress have to be happy to attend to it and comfort is crucial.

As I work in the Polytechnic University of Barcelona, I would like to explore the data in order to know or decide if the university would be a suitable place to perform a congress.

The target audience would be the committee in charge of deciding and organizing the congresses, which are also the ones that decide the suitable place to perform the different congresses.
